

INCHING ITS WAY THROUGH CITY

Hydro crews had to lift lines Tuesday to make way for a huge storage tank that was slowly moved by truck with police escort from the Stelfab Niagara Ltd. plant in the Stanley Avenue industrial park to Cyanamid's Niagara Plant on Fourth Avenue. Although one of the lines snapped as the tank inched its way along there were no other incidents along the route. The tank, which will be used to store cyanide, weighs 18 tons, is 36 feet long and 20 feet in diameter and took six weeks to make. The tank is worth $35,000 to $45,000. (Review photo)
